

GOOD OLD BOAT

Contents

MAY/JUNE 2018

ISSUE 120

For the love of sailboats

Cruising life

16 What breaks on passage?

Most everything, according to surveys
By Robin Urquhart

Learning experience

25 Between a bridge and a hard place

It was not the best place for his rudder to jam hard over
By John Gaich

Stowage solutions

28 Easy on-deck stowage

A suspended zippered bag relieves crowded cockpit lockers
By Joe Rosenfeld

Cruising memories

30 A good old investment

Keeping up an older boat pays back in family time, not dollars
By Bert Vermeer

Sailing life

38 First-sail protocols

How to keep newcomers to sailing calm and engaged
By John Armstrong

Our readers' boats

42 Sailors show their bottoms

Speaking seriously

Review boat

8 Tartan 27-2

An update of a longtime favorite
By Allen Penticoff

Design comparison

14 The Tartan 27-2 ...

... and a couple of companion centerboarders
By Rob Mazza

Useful modifications

22 Season extenders

Storm windows on hatches and ports help keep the cabin cozy
By Drew Frye

Refit boat

32 Rhodes Robin resurgent

A neglected vintage sailing dinghy finds love
By David Arnold

Rigging matters

44 Sewn eye-splices

Make strong connections with a needle and twine
By Drew Frye

On the cover ...

It's Christmas in May! While the autopilot did its job, Tom Young used his Canon 50D to photograph his 1961 Alden Challenger (Alden's first sailboat with a fiberglass hull and deck) bounding across Maine's western Penobscot Bay at 6.5 knots.

What's more

Websightings

3 Video DIY assists, reaching out for new sailors, and building a junk

The view from here

5 Icebreaking in the desert

Shared passions form a common bond between strangers
By Michael Robertson

Mail buoy

6 Niche mission, respect the pros, and save The Dogwatch link

Product profiles

49 Cell-phone range extender, gelcoat stain beater, and mosquito banisher

Simple solutions

50 Drying wet lines

The kink-free lifeline daisy chain gives wet rope a good airing
By Robin Urquhart

Good old classifieds 54

Reflections

61 A crisis of comprehension

Night-watch ruminations lead to an unsolvable riddle
By Tom Dymond

